

Fabulous new items arriving weekly at J'Adorn

After attending the Trade Shows in both Toronto and Chicago last month, Corinne is excited to see new arrivals pouring into J'Adorn for the Fall season. Stop in weekly to see what treasures await! Corinne took home lots of inspiration, ideas, and great products from the Trade Shows, and she can't wait to share!

Students and scholars heading back to school this month can find many treasures both useful and unique for the study year ahead. Don't forget about the Italian calligraphy sets, or the wide selection of notebooks, card sets, and books. J'Adorn even has vintage "cahiers" reminiscent of the lined school workbooks we filled with our gained knowledge in bygone days! Look for an inspirational bust, such as Strauss or Beethoven, or a gorgeous silk rug, to adorn your dorm room, and be the envy of your classmates!

There are many different collectible retro poster prints now to choose from; each are just $9.95, a steal! Also arriving will be luxurious wool and silk scarves with hand-embroidered embellishments; these scarves are extremely exclusive, as

Gustafson. The frames come with vintage photo inserts, so you may just the company making them guards their designs from potential copy artists. Watch for the iridescent and stained glasswork items such as photo frames and jewel boxes by artist Kathy want to keep them the way they are; each insert is actually a print of Kathy's own family's antique photos. Neat!

New in the Perfumerie are LeBlanc French soaps and scented sachets. The sachets are hand-embroidered silk cushion designs, filled with lavender from Provence. The soaps come in a single or double box, or a collectible tin, and delicious scents include Lily-of-the-Valley, Rose and Violet.
